"NORTHERN LIGHTS."

The performance of the great American military play, "Northern Lights," as given by the members of Himmelein's Imperial Stock Company at the Washington Opera-house last night proves conclusively that this is the strongest and best repertoire company that has ever appeared in this city. In point of acting, costuming, mounting and attention to detail the performance would have been creditable at the regular house prices. The play is a particularly strong one, and the actors in the cast gave it an admirable rendition. The main theme of the play has to do with the Custer massacre in 1876, but the various counter plots make it a particularly absorbing and interesting entertainment. T. B. Alexander in the role of "John Swiftwind," the educated Indian, displayed a strength and versatility that his warmest admirers in this city never suspected. Harry B. Castle as "Colonel Grey," and Dave H. Woods as "Dan Horton," contributed excellent support. The scenery was all that could be demanded, the scene showing the working of the "Northern Lights" being especially effective. For the matinee "In the Heart of the Storm," one of the heaviest and best scenic productions in the repertoire will be given, and notwithstanding the heavy expense the admission will be but ten cents to all parts of the house. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will bring the engagement to a close this evening.

Herbine should be used to enrich and purify the blood; it cures all forms of blood disorders, is especially useful in fevers, skin eruptions, boils, pimples, blackheads, scrofula, salt rheum and every form of blood impurity; it is a safe and effective cure. Price, 50 cents. J. Jas. Wood & Son.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED!

Coroner Will Learn the Cause of Andrew Daulton's Death.

REMAINS EXHUMED THIS MORNING

Andrew Daulton's death, which occurred on Saturday, January 10th, was the subject of coronial investigation yesterday.

At the time of the death of the young man rumors flew thick and fast among his kinsfolk and acquaintances because of certain circumstances growing out of his domestic relations, and further stimulated by the manner of his taking off.

Friday before his death he complained of feeling unwell. Saturday morning early he told his wife to get his breakfast and he would go to his work at the Hall Plow Works.

He did not think him well enough to go, so delayed the meal till past whistle blowing.

At the table, after pouring his coffee into a saucer, without warning, he jabbed his fork into its depths, then arising thrust it into the sole of his shoe; after this strange conduct he fell in convulsions, which continued intermittently until 6 o'clock that night, when death relieved him.

The undertaker was called in, the body was embalmed and the funeral and burial took place Monday.

Now the coroner's services are invoked to satisfy Madame Rumor, and the jury yesterday, after hearing witnesses, Dr. Yazell who attended Daulton, Mr. Q. A. Means who prepared him for the grave, his brother and sister and one or two other neighbors, were instructed by the coroner to retain this knowledge and reserve a verdict till the stomach of the deceased could be examined and critically analyzed by an expert chemist, which will require a week or two. Dr. Yazell was selected to supervise dissecting the body, which will be this morning. He will remove the stomach and ship it for the required test.

Mrs. Daulton is now with her mother in Ohio and was not present nor represented at the inquest.

The testimony of the brother and sister of the deceased connects the name of one Spencer as the cause for suspicion, he having been attentive to Mrs. Daulton and driven away from the humble home of the Daultons by the irate husband.

Upon the stand Dr. Yazell, in very pronounced language, combatted the theory of poison as being the cause of death. He diagnosed the case as death from the result of excessive use of strong drink; uræmic poison being the immediate cause of his demise, notwithstanding the fact that for several months last past Mr. Daulton had not been addicted to the liquor habit.

The final outcome of the case is awaited with much anxiety by those most interested.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Fig will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Mrs. Mildred McGlosson, aged 40, died near Olympia, Bath county, of a strange disease that is puzzling the medical fraternity. She was taken sick two months ago, and after two weeks' illness, began turning black. For five weeks before her death she remained as black as a full-blood Negro. She suffered very little pain, but gradually withered away.

The river is almost stationary at headwaters, with a slight indication of a rise.

The great fleet of towboats returning from Cincinnati and Louisville with empty craft is not bringing as large towas on other occasions. The steamers have in all a total of 125 coalboats, 225 barges and a number of flats. Big tows cannot be handled on account of the ice that is running out of the Allegheny river.

The report of the Lighthouse District for the year of 1900 has been given out. The Fourteenth District extends from the Ohio river at Pittsburgh to Cairo, the Great Kanawha and the Tennessee, embracing 1,295 miles of water. The lightkeepers are complimented on the faithful conduct of their duties. They number 479. At present there are 485 post lights and 533 lights on the above rivers. The number of gallons of oil distributed during the past year was 11,955. The district has but one steam tender, which is the Goldenrod. She is to receive new mud drums and an electric searchlight. She is reported as being in good condition. During the year of 1900 she made two trips and distributed supplies. She steamed 5,153 miles.

The Tom Dodswoth passed up with a tow of empties for Pittsburgh. She is an old towboat and Captain R. B. Robinson has had charge of her for the past thirty years. His two sons, A. S. and A. C. are the pilots, and they have been under their father's charge in that capacity for twenty-five years. All three are well and hearty and bid fair to cover many more years. While in charge of that boat she has not had any bad accidents, except last November, when below Pittsburgh she struck the Volunteer and disabled the latter's tow. About twenty years ago she made a record run from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati and return with a light tow. The time was 4 days, 20 hours and 15 minutes. She is known among rivermen as the "Robinson boat."

WOMEN'S GLOVES!

A quiet talk about them—a statement of their goodness—how they are liked, why we can sell a $ glove for 69c. It isn't reasonable under ordinary circumstances we could make such a cut not if the gloves are "right" and we paid the usual price. Late in the season—the wholesaler's season—our glove man came along with a tempting offer of odd lots of kid gloves. Not our regular line that we import direct but good genuine kidkin $ gloves. We satisfied ourselves as to quality and took the gloves. They are here now and are yours to choose

For 69 Cents!

Not a hurt in the skins, the colors, the stitching. The gloves are "right." You save money on every pair you buy for 69c. Black and colors. All sizes but not every size in each color. The kid is a little heavier, a trifle less elastic than the "Fedoras"—our pattern glove—but their maker in Grenoble is one of the best known and his gloves are everywhere respected for style and goodness. Don't be afraid to try a pair—you know we are safe.

"The good goods store" is the way we heard ourselves described the other day. It pleased us. It is our daily endeavor to live up to that reputation.
